ART INSTRUCTOR & DIRECTOR OF STUDIO ART
Wenatchee Campus. This is a full-time, tenure-track faculty position that will teach college-level art classes and will lead the college’s engagement with the community in the promotion of visual arts. The position is vital to the reinvigoration of the fine arts at Wenatchee Valley College.

ENGLISH INSTRUCTOR
Wenatchee Campus. This is a full-time, tenure-track faculty position teaching college-level English courses. The successful candidate will teach composition and occasional literature classes in a schedule that may include evening classes.

MUSIC INSTRUCTOR & DIRECTOR OF MUSIC ACTIVITIES
Wenatchee Campus. This is a full-time, tenure track faculty position that will teach college-level music classes and will lead the college’s engagement with the community in the promotion of music instruction and performance. The position is vital to the reinvigoration of the fine arts at Wenatchee Valley College.

BUSINESS INSTRUCTOR
North Campus in Omak. This is a full-time, tenure-track faculty position. The successful candidate for this position will be responsible for teaching college-level business administration courses to freshman and sophomore transfer and professional-technical students.

Salary is determined by placement on the Wenatchee Valley College full-time faculty schedule ($40,129 to $44,917, 9-month, 175-day contract). Benefits include medical and dental coverage, life insurance, long-term disability, sick leave, and a retirement plan.

A screening committee will review only complete applications. Applications will be screened as they are received. Position open until filled. A limited number of applicants who meet the needs of the position and the college will be interviewed.

ASSOCIATE DIRECTOR FOR STUDENT FINANCIAL AID
This is a full-time, exempt position that reports to the financial aid director. The position’s principal responsibility is to support the financial aid director with the administration of federal, state and private financial aid resources (grants, loans, work-study, agency funding, scholarships, WorkFirst and worker retraining). Acts as authority in the absence of the financial aid director.

Salary: $40,000 to $45,000 dependent on experience and qualifications. Benefits include a retirement plan, vacation and sick leave, medical and dental coverage, life insurance, and long-term disability insurance.

A screening committee will review only complete applications. Applications will be screened as they are received. Position open until filled. A limited number of applicants who meet the needs of the position and the college will be interviewed.

DIRECTOR OF FINANCIAL AID
This is a full-time, administrative exempt position that reports to the associate dean for student access services. The position serves as the chief financial aid officer of the college and is responsible for overall direction, leadership and management of the Wenatchee Valley College financial aid office. The director is responsible for acquisition and distribution of federal, state and local financial aid resources to eligible students in accordance with all federal, state and local financial aid rules and regulations.

Salary: $55,000 to $60,000 dependent on experience and qualifications. Benefits include a retirement plan, vacation and sick leave, medical and dental coverage, life insurance, and long-term disability insurance.

A screening committee will review only complete applications. Applications will be screened as they are received. Position open until filled. A limited number of applicants who meet the needs of the position and the college will be interviewed.

APPLICATION MATERIALS
Application materials may be requested from:
Wenatchee Valley College
1300 Fifth Street
Wenatchee, WA 98801
(509)664-2597
Email: tmarker@wvc.edu
Web site: www.wvc.edu

Assistance will be made available in the application and pre-employment screening process for applicants with disabilities who request such assistance in advance.

Wenatchee Valley College is an equal opportunity employer. All qualified individuals are encouraged to apply.

How To Apply
Our Mission

Wenatchee Valley College, the public comprehensive community college in North Central Washington, serves the educational and cultural needs of its communities and the residents throughout its service area. The college provides high-quality transfer, liberal arts, technical/professional, basic skills and continuing education to students of diverse ethnic and economic backgrounds. We seek opportunities to work with our communities to meet their changing needs.

The people we serve

The WVC district population has grown nearly 20 percent in the past 10 years, reaching a total of just under 135,000. The population center is the Greater Wenatchee Area, with more than 30,000 residents. About 78 percent of the residents are Caucasian; 17 percent, Hispanic; and 4 percent, Native American. Okanogan County includes part of the Colville Indian Reservation. More than 100 Native American students attend the North Campus.

WVC offers an increasing variety of distance learning courses using interactive television, telecourse and online formats. These are quite important in providing educational opportunities to students who do not live near one of the campuses.

The college is governed by a five-member Board of Trustees, each appointed by the governor to five-year terms. It receives about 6,000 students each quarter, with 60 percent attending classes full time. During 2001-2002, the college counted 2,689 annualized FTEs. About 60 percent were female, and the average age was 31. Of these students, about 47 percent were enrolled in liberal arts and sciences classes; 32 percent in technical/professional classes; 11 percent in basic skills; and 9 percent in developmental education. Approximately 200 FTES were generated from Running Start students, who receive both high school and college credit at the same time.

With district unemployment significantly higher than the state average, job training and re-training is particularly critical. The college offers 15 technical/professional programs, including agriculture, business, computer technology, electronics, refrigeration and a variety of medical occupation fields. The college's internationally recognized, award-winning agriculture programs are located in the heart of Washington's tree fruit industry.

North Central Washington

North Central Washington attracts highly qualified and gifted professionals because of its supreme quality of life. Its diverse geography, with alpine mountains, sagebrush plateaus, river valleys and deep canyons, provides the setting for one of the world's greatest fruit-growing regions and treasured national forests. With four distinct seasons and a climate with an average of 300 days of sunshine, the area is a mecca for outdoor activities such as hiking, rock climbing, canoeing, fishing, whitewater rafting, water and snow skiing, and bird watching. Community spirit is strong, with many arts and cultural opportunities available, and education at all levels is strongly supported.

Performing arts centers, art galleries, museums, and local theater and music groups reflect the region's diverse culture. Wenatchee's selection as a five-time national winner of the Make A Difference Day contest is an example of the caring spirit of its communities. Clean air and water, low-cost electricity, strong medical programs, and the fact that the area is rapidly developing its telecommunications capacity are particularly attractive features.

The Wenatchee Campus is located within short commuting distance of the entire greater Wenatchee area, allowing for more personal and family time. Midway between Seattle and Spokane, the Wenatchee Valley is only two to three hours away from the state's largest metropolitan areas. The Okanogan Valley is close to the magnificent North Cascades and British Columbia, Canada.

For more information about the area visit the Wenatchee Chamber of Commerce Web site at www.wenatchee.org.